

When do I need to apply for Medicare?

You need to apply for Medicare on your 65th birthday!

- Initial Enrollment Period:

- The Medicare Initial Enrollment Period lasts 7 total months. This includes 3 months before you turn 65, the month you turn 65, and 3 months after you turn 65.

- Special Enrollment Period:

- You may qualify for a Special Enrollment Period:
 - Changes to your household
 - Changes in residence; or
 - Loss of health insurance

- General Enrollment Period

- The general Enrollment period for Medicare occurs between January 1st - March 31st.

Medicare Utilization

- If you retire before age 65, you must enroll in the Initial Enrollment Period. Read more below.
- If you plan on working past age 65 and are covered by the plan that covers fewer than 20 employees:
 - You generally must enroll in Medicare in the Initial Enrollment Period
- If retiring after age 65 and are covered by a plan that covers more than 20 employees:
 - You can delay enrolling in Medicare until employment ends, or coverage stops. Whichever occurs first.
 - If you want, you can stay on employer insurance if you continue to work past age 65.
 - When you retire or lose your employer coverage, you will have an 8-month Special Enrollment Period in which to enroll in Medicare. You will have up to 8 months to enroll in Parts A and/or B, but only the first two months to enroll in Parts C and/or D.

When does your coverage begin?

- If you sign up before the month you turn 65, coverage starts on the 1st of the month you turn 65.
- If you sign up after the month you turn 65, coverage starts on the 1st after the month you turn 65.
